Delegate Engagement

1. As a democratic organisation values and encourages the input of all federation delegates to the Congress voting process.
2. Federations have a number of options to be able ensure they engage in the democratic process as detailed in section 1.6 of the Voting Regulations
3. The online voting process is designed to facilitate this engagement by allowing federation delegates a number of opportunities to input to the Congress voting process.
4. Within the timetable laid out in the voting regulations:
 - a. Initially all federation delegates are allowed and encouraged to contribute to the creation of proposals.
 - b. Federation delegates are furthermore allowed to comment upon proposals and interact with the proposal creators with the aim of improving clarity, understanding and validity of said proposals.
 - c. Upon closure of the proposal window federation delegates are able to vote with options as detailed in voting regulations section 1.9 B
 - d. For the four weeks before the closing of online voting, the server will send a weekly e-mail reminder to all delegates who have not yet completed their voting; this email will include a list of the Congress proposals and a link to each proposal which has not yet been voted on.
 - e. For the last two weeks of the voting period, the frequency of these emails will increase to daily
5. Federation delegates are reminded that they have a responsibility to represent their players by engagement with the voting process and determining their voting input by whatever internal mechanism is desired.
